- b) Registration errors - GIS data layers may not overlay each other correctly.
- c) Data errors - GIS data layers, databases and documents may not be the most current available or may not depict the specified time. All data is subject to constant change. Data input tags real-world changes by varying periods of time.
- d) Completeness errors - Data may be missing or data may be included that does not belong.
- e) Projection distortion - All map projections introduce distortion by representing the irregular shape of the earth's surface on flat maps. This affects feature shapes and map distances.
